

Information:

Most values have been rounded off

These texts show the maximum recorded speeds of done speed measurements.

All individual maximum speed recordings and measurements can be different, somewhat different and that's why there's different values of data and information here and there but they are mostly a lot alike.

Average values of a species maximum speed are-might be different.

A higher top speed by a certain individual animal in a species is also possible.